Entry into new U.S. State with US$27.7 million roads asset management contract

Transfield Services has taken its successful transport services business into a new U.S. State, securing a US$27.7 million five-year contract with the North Carolina Department of Transportation.

Transfield Services North America Transportation Infrastructure will deliver operations, maintenance, emergency response, asset management and construction services on 135 miles of interstate roadway and associated assets.

Managing Director and CEO, Dr Peter Goode, said today: "This is a further endorsement for our North American transport infrastructure business and the quality of the services we provide to Government clients."

Transfield Services commenced work in North America's transport infrastructure sector in 2007 and achieved revenues in excess of US$100 million in FY09.

The business has secured more than AUD$800 million worth of contracts this financial year, with clients including the New Brunswick Highway Corporation, Ontario Ministry of Transportation, the Florida Department of Transportation, the District Department of Transportation in Washington D.C. and MAT Concessionaire LLC for the Port of Miami Tunnel.

Transfield Services provides essential services to tollroads, tunnels, bridges and urban and regional road networks across Australia, New Zealand, U.S. and Canada.
